The Business Challenge

A portfolio company in the healthcare sector initiated a strategic evaluation of its existing systems to review platform scalability and modernization opportunities. To meet the forecasted business needs of the company, they identified the need to invest in a cloud-hosted solution developed on a modern framework, delivering scalable, automated processing of their core business and a migration strategy for their existing client base to the new platform.

The Solution

REEA Global modernized the medical claims data processing and platform infrastructure through a phased approach. The engagement began with a comprehensive platform analysis and review of best practices, followed by an in-depth focus on high availability and database performance optimization that identified critical areas for improvement.

In the second phase, REEA Global led the migration of an acquired business line's SAAS hosted solution to an updated, cloud-hosted application tailored to process large volumes of healthcare data and complex medical claims workflows, including preprocessing data validation rules, integration with third-party data augmentation services, and financial analysis calculations.

The Business Impact

decreased platform operating risks and costs modernized technology stack, aligned with industry standards and best practices automation of manual workflows improved system scalability
